

MASSEY UNIVERSITY

Introducing the Direct Entry English Pathway for Postgraduate & Selected Undergraduate or Postgraduate Study

Choose to study at Massey University because:

When you make a decision to study at Massey University you are choosing a University that is like no other. Massey University is characterized by the applied nature of many of its teaching and research programmes and by its special expertise in the fields of sciences, design, social sciences, education and business. It has a proud international record of using this expertise to work with developing countries, and its focus on technology and business is also meeting new international demands.

Massey University is an integrated university operating across three major campuses (Auckland, Palmerston North, and Wellington which are all cities in New Zealand's North Island). Staff in many areas are internationally renowned.

Leading edge research is being undertaken at all three campuses and in collaboration and partnership with communities, other research and educational providers, as well as industry in New Zealand and around the world.

Choose to study the Direct Entry English Pathway for Postgraduate & Selected Undergraduate or Selected Postgraduate Study because:

Successful completion guarantees you meet the English language entry requirement into postgraduate and selected undergraduate or selected postgraduate programmes at Massey University. Selected undergraduate programmes include the Bachelor of Nursing, Bachelor of Aviation (Air Transport Programme), and Diploma in Veterinary Nursing. Selected postgraduate programmes include programmes in Education, Communication Management and Journalism. Entry to your programme of study depends on your performance in assessments throughout the course. You do not need to sit an external examination at the end of the course.
